

By Rob Ellis

<http://www.dakotavoice.com/2010/09/textbooks-indoctrinating-a-nation/>

There are also private Islamic schools here in the United States that are fomenting hatred and violence against us. One of them is in Alexandria, Virginia just outside Washington D.C.: the Islamic Saudi Academy. After reports that their textbooks were breeding hatred and violence, the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom urged the State Department to investigate these textbooks. In 2006 the Saudi government promised to revise their textbooks. In 2008 these textbooks were supposedly reviewed for inflammatory material, but Fox News hired an Arab linguist to review them and found passages like